

ประกาศผลการประกวดสารคดีภาพ "10 ภาพเล่าเรื่อง" SEASON 10

ปีที่ 25

พฤศจิกายน 2568

ฉบับที่ 292

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC

เกือบหลับ แต่กลับมาได้ มนุษย์สามารถ จำศีลได้จริงหรือ

คำตอบอาจไม่เพียงปฏิวัติวงการแพทย์
และพลิกโฉมการเดินทางในอวกาศ
แต่ยังใกล้ความจริงมากกว่าที่คุณคิด

Journal Name : National Geographic

Year : 25

Issue : 292

Month : November

B.E. : 2025

Abstract

Presenting content about The search for a state of slumber, or inducing humans to go into a state of deep sleep, may not be just a sci-fi concept. If it were to come true, it could revolutionize medicine and revolutionize space travel. Visit the World's Most Dangerous Garden This is no ordinary garden in England, but you'll need protective gear to see some of the planet's most dangerous plants. Sherpas aim for the stars. Meet Nima Rinji, the 18-year-old Sherpa who became the youngest climber to summit all 14 of the world's highest peaks. See the world and life through the eyes of an insect. A photographer uses a modified camera to capture bizarre and fascinating images right under our feet. Meet the robot dancing gibbon. Decode the bizarre behavior and antics of Asia's dancing ape. Behind the scenes of the search for an infinite energy source in a small town in the south of France. A mega-scientific project is closing in on solving the world's energy needs by creating stars on Earth. The mission to save an ancient Egyptian temple. The temple of Abu Simbel in Egypt was slated to disappear beneath the murky waters of a new dam, until Jackie Kennedy intervened. Recording the terrifying beauty of wildfires. Global warming has changed the behavior of wildfires. For one photographer, recording the effects of wildfires requires a new method as well. Announcing the results of the "10 Kap Lao Lao" contest, Season 10. Watch the documentary photo series "The River of Life" from the NGThai Photo of the Year contest.